

Truckin' for the Troops Care Package & Community Education FAQ

Q: Why is O'Halloran International sponsoring Truckin' for the Troops and supporting community education on citizenship?

A: O'Halloran International is Iowa-based and employee-owned and wants to give back to local communities. With Truckin' for the Troops, O'Halloran International is teaming up with local schools and business partners in Carroll, Cherokee, Fort Dodge, and Des Moines to promote citizenship (global and local) thru two initiatives: sending care packages to our troops and talking with kids in local schools about citizenship on a local and global stage.

Q: Where can I get more information about this community project – Truckin' for the Troops? How can I get involved?

A: Go to www.ohallorans.com/troops, send an email to altoona@ohallorans.com, call 1-800-800-6503 or call/stop by your local O'Halloran dealership in Carroll, Cherokee, Fort Dodge or Des Moines/Altoona. Information on the web will be updated as the project moves forward. To support the care package effort, you can contribute care package items or buy a t-shirt to help pay for postage.

Q: Can I support this effort by buying a t-shirt?

A: YES! Proceeds from t-shirt sales will go to defray the cost of postage and to buy care package items for troops, if necessary. Shirts are available in adult and youth sizes. You can order a t-shirt by calling in an order or sending a check (see info on other side). Deadlines for placing orders and pick-up dates and times (at O'Halloran locations) are summarized below:
